ACHIEVING THE AIM

I What's been the best thing about creating the placements?

ME Well I think it's been great. I mean I think it's been great because you think about... I think it's, you know, labels, you need to stand back a bit and think what you're doing and why you're doing it and the way you're doing it, which is always a really really helpful thing to do. And you know, the enthusiasm was really wonderful. And I think, you know, because they're getting all these ideas that we passionately believe in, you know, it's just really really rewarding to be working with you. Because you know, I think you were saying before that you sort of feel that you're passing it on and that it's going to go out into the classroom. And when you said that I thought that's exactly what I've been feeling, that actually you know, when they came back with Katy Morag [laughter] it was just great because I mean I've been saying to teachers for years, this could work in your classroom, but actually no one's, you feed it out but you never see whether that's come back.

I You just don't know.

ME So you don't know, exactly. So it's been really good.
